

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COLLABORATORS

MemWorks has been an entirely collaborative initiative from its inception. This began with identifying the key questions to answer and scope of work, continued through the data analysis and primary research phases, and is critical to the action plans that are helping address the identified employment roadblocks. We are grateful for these organizations' support and engagement to help seek out the root causes for why employment pathways are not working for Memphians experiencing poverty.

